Dear sirs

I am not going to make reference to a single specific site however I will make reference to all those areas of Leeds that border with Bradford.

I am a resident of Apperley Bridge, Bradford.
The area in which I live borders with Yeadon, Rawdon, Calverley and is in close proximity to Horsforth, Guiseley, Otley, Menston and all the other areas of Aireborough.

In fact we are so closely situated to the surrounding Leeds areas that we enjoy a lot of shared amenities/ infrastructure.

My concern is that the Leeds SAP has allocated over 4000 new homes along this bordering corridor. Bradford MDC - as you are fully aware, have allocated 4300 homes along the same bordering areas.

Now, please explain how an area full of tiny villages that do not have the infrastructure or space to develop the same, can substantiate all this additional housing?

Not even the blood money from developers will be enough to cover all the additional school places medical centres and road improvements required to facilitate so many additional homes and bodies.

Further to this, the green belt that is currently used as a clear divide between settlements villages and districts is being eradicated under your plans. Surely you can see the long lasting damage you are doing here?

Once these green divides are gone, we will NEVER be able to get them back and no number of "green areas" on these modern developments will be sufficient compensation.
