I am writing to object to plans to use the Church Lane Paddock site as a new housing development. The open green space here is of great importance to the local community and it should be protected for residents of Meanwood now and in the future. Housing developments need to be on brownfield sites and it is crucial that green areas are protected. The area around Meanwood is very well developed and it is crucial that green areas are able to be preserved.

In addition the area has already seen large increases in traffic in recent years, particularly with the success of local supermarkets, and this development would add to these issues.

I urge you to take a long term view in terms of the quality of the environment for local residents by not allowing the site to be developed.
