To whom it may concern,

I am nearly 18 years old and have lived on Silverdale Drive since I was 3 months old, my brother was even born in the house. I love where I live as the estate is quiet, welcoming and not too far from the shops and other facilities. I don't think Silverdale should have any more houses built on the estate as the roads are just not big enough and wouldn't be able to handle any more cars. More houses would ruin the atmosphere on the estate as it would just cause chaos and unneeded difficulty for those who already live here. A school would just bring more traffic and misery to the estate and therefore should not be built. I hope you get enough petitions to abolish the planning permission for Silverdale, it's a stupid idea to build here.
