Dear Sir/Madam,
2015

12 November

I am writing to you as a longstanding resident of Horsforth.
I am extremely worried about the proposals to build yet more houses in and around the Horsforth area on Green Belt land.

My husband and I have lived in Horsforth for 35 years our reason for wanting to live here was the fact that it had everything we were looking for to raise our young family. It was the largest village in the county, village being the operative word, this will no longer be so if you continue to build more and more and more houses on the Green Belt choosing this before and above Brownfield sites this is not justified!

This is not consistent with the national policy.

The proposal to use this Strategic Green Infrastructure goes against the Leeds Core Strategy. My children are grown up and have children of their own, our grandchildren, who visit us regularly. We like to take the children out in the local area to enjoy this little piece of countryside we have on our doorstep, not only the park but to the woods, and fields beyond and the strawberry picking fields, but these areas are going to be gone very soon.

How can you steal this from our children's future?

Once it's gone, it's gone forever; just think is this you really want for our children's future?

Yours sincerely,
Mrs Margaret Rhodes
