The site allocations plans for Leeds are not sound. There is no need for further development in the Aire borough area as we have already had a huge amount of building without any improvement to the infrastructure, indeed highways said it was impossible to make any improvements to the A65 which is now a corridor through Menston, Guiseley and Yeadon

Also I totally disagree with building on the Green belt. There are other sites that can be used. Guiseley cemetery looks over beautiful landscape and should be left as so.

We have not even been included in the designations.

I object.
